Our aim

With all of our customers our aim is to give them full control over their website, and in return many of them have and continue to work with keeping their website fresh and up to date.

Here to help

If you feel that you simply do not have the time to do this or want elements of the website progressed that are beyond your expertise, this is where we can step in. We provide a straight forward ongoing support service that takes that load off your shoulders.

Our support team can work with your employees to determine the best technology to use to easily and efficiently accomplish these items and to develop the right shared support model for your organization.

We can be your organization's complete web team, handling all of your needs, or we can just be there as a backup or overflow team to help when demands are especially high.

It's never set in stone

Every three months we will review your support package with how much actual time has been spent. This is to determine whether we have put you on the right package. If we find that we (on average) are spending less time than allocated, we will let you know and put you on a smaller package.
